

WAR CLOUDS NOW MENACE EUROPE

France Dares Not Relax Its Precaution Along Military Lines.

THREE-YEAR LAW HOLDS

Germany's First Move Would Be to Strike Deadly Blow to Old Foe.

Paris, July 11.—We live in the midst of war and rumors of war. If there is anything in the old adage that where there is smoke there is fire, an outbreak in Europe is bound to come sooner or later.

Recently there was alarm in France at the statement that a new German military law was about to be enacted for the increase of her military forces. Then came the campaign here for the overthrow of President Poincaré. This did not succeed, but when M. Ribot's cabinet was defeated in the first division it was hailed as a mark of disapproval of the three-year service bill.

It may be assumed confidently that the three years' military service law is indispensable to France, and all political parties recognize that fact.

One of the chief of France's politicians, asked why the increase of military service was necessary, said:

"It is the consequence of the action of Germany. Germany has begun to realize that in the event of a European war she would have to rely very largely upon herself. For Austria would have 200,000 servants on one heel and 300,000 Rumanians on the other. Now, Russia's numbers are very formidable, but it is a question whether she can concentrate them rapidly. Germany desires, therefore, to be in a position to strike a deadly blow at France immediately hostilities begin, so as to be able to have her hands more free to meet the Russians on the frontier."

"The aim of the three years' service is to take away from Germany the temptation to make this sudden attack on us. As the Germans have a frontier force of 200,000 men, we must have one of practically equal strength, so that we can hold our own while the reserves are mobilizing on the frontier line."

All Europe is likewise looking to this defense. Turkish officials have consented to force one month's pay in order that the nation may be provided with a first supply of defending its coast. If there should be an attack, "Chewik Bey," a Turkish private of the navy committee, who is a deputy for Constantinople, is making constant journeys into the provinces for the purpose of rallying the population to this patriotic work.

DIVAL FOR THE AMERICA

London, July 11.—Claude Grahame-Smith is completing an enormous machine at Horden for a machine intended for flying across the Atlantic. The airplane, not yet fully designed, is to carry three persons.

The engine power is to consist of four units capable of going continuously for forty hours. The machine also will be flexible and seaworthy. Grahame-Smith hopes to form a committee, including leading British airplane designers, and navigators.

ENGLAND WARNS CHINA

London, July 11.—Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, issued a warning to China today in the House of Commons, telling that nation trouble may result from her refusal to sign the convention arranged at the recent conference at Darjeeling, India, regarding the composition of Outer and Inner Tibet. The convention was reached by representatives of Great Britain, Tibet, and China, who have been discussing Tibetan autonomy since last fall and has been presented to the three governments for signature.

"If China does not sign but resorts to an aggressive policy," Sir Edward said, "the consequences must be disastrous for China. Tibet certainly will be grave trouble on the Indian frontier, which will require Great Britain to take the matter seriously with the government of China."

Cuno H. Rudolph Praised As Type of Business Man

Commercial and Financial World, in Editorial, Lauds Him as One Who Brings to Bear Knowledge, Industry,
Public Spirit, and High
Character to Post of Banker.

An excellent appreciation of Cuno H. Rudolph, formerly president of the board of District Commissioners, is contained in a recent edition of the Commercial and Financial World, along with an account of the standing of the Second National Bank, of which Mr. Rudolph is president.

After telling of Mr. Rudolph's many civic activities and connections, and speaking of his work as president of the Second National, the World says:

"Mr. Rudolph is a man who brings to bear knowledge, industry, public spirit, and high character to a post with which he is qualified to deal by long study, fine purpose and the possession not only of the facts of the case, but of the confidence of all honorable men interested in the duties and problems of the position. He knows what it is to struggle and what it is to achieve. He has worked up, until today he stands as a fine type of America's successful business men. He has the faculty of stating arguments, facts and conclusions in a clear and logical style of saying without hesitation or embarrassment just what he means, and of using the language precisely an expert in the industry. He is a business man all the way through, and yet with the air of a close student, founder of books that show up as dispassionate and worthy of the respect and good will of the most substantial and conservative members of the community, and is looked upon as a man of business ability, integrity, and financial acumen have never been questioned. The thorough business training is manifest in every word."

AN AMERICAN AVIATOR BEATS ALL EUROPEANS

W. L. Brock Wins in Round-trip
Flight from London to Paris and Return.

Hendon, England, July 11.—Winging his way through 28 miles of fog, W. L. Brock, an American aviator, won the round-trip London-to-Paris air race today, after a thrilling flight, in which he completed against the best talent of Europe.

Shortly after Brock left the Paris aerodrome Lord Carbery and Garros started upon their return journey. At the time they left nothing had been heard of Rennaux, who was carrying Miss Unwin with him as a passenger.

Lord Carbery departed at 2:30 and Garros five minutes later.

Brock's elapsed time for the distance was seven hours and three minutes. He made the 128 miles between Hendon and the Rue aerodrome, on the outskirts of Paris, in three hours thirty-three minutes and twenty-four seconds; the return trip was made in three hours twenty-nine minutes and thirty-six seconds.

The American was given a tremendous ovation when he arrived here at 4:15 o'clock. This was his second big aerial triumph this summer, having won the aerial derby around London several weeks ago.

The winner gets a trophy and $4,000 in cash.

An Brock passed over Boulogne, Folkestone, Epsom and other cities along the route, great crowds cheered him and factory whistles were tooted.

Brock used a Morane monoplane, which worked faultlessly. He said the fog over the channel was so dense that he feared he would lose his way.

GUNMEN FIGHT OVER BELLE

New York, July 11.—A gunmen's quarrel over who should dance with "the belle of Greenwich village" identity unknown, on the East Side, early today, resulted in two men being seriously wounded and the breaking up of the dance amidst wild excitement.

To get funds for the defense of Thomas Burns, in the Tombs under indictment for grand larceny, the Robert Kelly Association gave a ball "Social Lights" from the East Side and Brooklyn turned out in force.

John C. Borsi insisted on dancing with "Greenwich village's" belle, and the man who took her to the ball drew his revolver and fired at Borsi, who fell with three bullets in his groin and abdomen.

DE LA LAMA, FINANCIAL ADVISED OF GEN. HUERTA

SAILING FOR FRANCE TODAY

Vera Cruz, July 11.—The colony of ex-advisers of Gen. Huerta, who have deserted that grizzled old warrior in this hour of his greatest need, and are sailing tomorrow for foreign climes on the French steamer Espagne, received an addition today in the person of Adolfo de la Lama, minister of finance in the dictator's cabinet. Disheveled as to clothing, wearing no collar and with his face streaked with dirt and perspiration, the once dignified director of the intricate financial affairs of Mexico slipped aboard the shuttle train at the "Gap" today, accompanied by a secretary and a body guard of two men.

The program began with several selections by the Navy Yard Band, after which Commissioner Siddons delivered an address on "Youthful Citizenship." The children enjoyed this a great deal and paid the closest attention, giving evidence that the Commissioner still appreciated the youngsters' viewpoint.

The athletic events then took place, each event in charge of a committee of camp workers. Ball throwing, beanbag grabbing, potato race, obstacle race, sawing circle row and needle threading race made up the first part of the program, and this was followed by more music. The jumping contests and flag races were then held. This was followed by supper. After supper the mothers had an exciting croquet contest and then a race at quilt patching. In the evening the campers assembled in the James pavilion, when ice cream and further band selections were enjoyed and the mothers indulged in a riotous Virginia reel.

The committee in charge of the program follows: B. P. Donnelly, chairman; E. J. Jones, vice chairman; Mr. Case, treasurer; Mr. Hamilton, secretary; and Messrs. White, Vivian and Lesser.

Preparations have been completed for the search outings July 16 and 17, and on those days a committee of from 100 to 200 volunteers, of whom Mrs. J. V. Harrington is chairman, will collect the young campers for the summer. The department stores and other business houses plan to have special decorations and cards announcing the days and telling of the camp. The young women assisting will be stationed at various business houses to receive contributions.

SHIP GOES ON ROCKS.

St. John's, Newfoundland, July 11.—All the passengers of the steamer Invermore, which stranded on the Labrador coast near Brig Harbor, were rescued today, according to a wireless dispatch received from her commander, Capt. Keane. He reported the vessel was tilted with water, but he believes she can be refloated. The steamer Kyle has been sent to her assistance. The Invermore went on the rocks in trying to avoid a large field of ice.

DINNER READY; GUESTS, TOO—HOST IS GOLFING

Representative Kent's Two Friends
Ate Alone, Upon His Telephonic Request.

A well-dressed man ran lightly up the white soapstone steps of a large residence at Twentieth and G streets about 6:30 o'clock one evening last week and rang the doorbell. The ring was answered by a maid.

"Is Representative Kent in?"

"He hasn't come home yet, sir. Won't you come in and wait?"

"Yes, thank you. I have an engagement to dine with him."

"There is another gentleman waiting for him in the library. Will you walk in, please."

The dinner guest walked in, deposited his hat in the hall and stepped into the library, bowing politely to the other occupant, and settling himself in a comfortable chair. He twiddled his thumbs for twenty minutes or so and finally introduced himself to the other man in the room.

"My name is — Mr. Kent asked me to take dinner with him this evening. I guess he has been detained at the office."

"My name is —" replied the stranger. "Kent invited me to dinner, too. We're in the same boat, I guess."

They talked of various things, discovered common interests, and despite a rapidly increasing appetite, were getting along famously when the maid entered with the room.

"Mr. Kent just called up on the phone," she informed them with an extremely apologetic air. "I told him you were here. He asked me to say that he was extremely sorry he can't get home. He has been unavoidably detained. He wants you to have dinner here without him, if you will. He will get in as soon as possible."

Accordingly the two hostless guests walked into the dining-room and enjoyed an excellent meal—just the two of them.

In the meanwhile, Mr. Kent was breaking all records coming in from a nearby country club, where he had forgotten his engagement in an exciting game of golf with his dearest rival on the links.

PLAZA AWARD AGAIN.

Chairman of House District Body
Repeats Charges in Report.

Reiterating his charge that the selection of condemnation juries in the District is restricted to a "select few," the chairman of the House District Committee yesterday filed the committee report on his resolution creating a new commission to settle condemnation claims for property between the Capitol grounds and the Union Station plaza. The report charges that the Baltimore and Ohio awards were excessive. The commission is to be appointed by the President.

The resolution brings up a conflict of jurisdiction with the Public Buildings Committee of the House, which recently reported out a resolution declaring the claims severable and authorizing the President to direct the payment of such of the claims as he deems just and proper.

Special Cable to The Washington Herald.

Buenos Aires, July 11.—The German steamer Mendoza is ashore off Megotes Point with 267 people on board. This includes passengers and crew.

The wireless brought word that the position of the Mendoza was perilous and the Argentine government at once dispatched the gunboat Patria and two tugs to the assistance of the stranded boat.

The Mendoza went ashore during a fog. The vessel belongs to the Hamburg-South American Steamship Company. Her exact position is six miles south of Cape Corrientes, where there are many submerged rocks.

ON WAY TO INSPECT CANAL.

Bunau-Varilla Has Waited Thirty

New York, July 11.—Philippe Bunau-Varilla, the famous French engineer who thirty years ago first considered the project of joining the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans by a canal across the Isthmus of Panama, is in this city today and will leave soon for the Canal Zone "just to see ships pass from the Pacific to the Atlantic after thirty years."

Bunau-Varilla's name is mentioned often in the history of the disastrous French attempt to cut the great ditch, and since the United States took hold of the work, now practically complete, his opinion has often been sought by American engineers, who recognize that he is one of the best authorities on construction work and thoroughly familiar with Panama conditions.

"When the time comes that we can no longer stand this tyranny of law and of capital, we will revolt and the force of our upward movement will be felt throughout the country. The time has already come for the workingman to use dynamite."

WHO SAID: THERE'S A REASON?

Shields, Who Hit Johnson, Must Get No Fees, Bill Provides.

John R. Shields, a local attorney and former Georgetown football star, was retained by a number of police and firemen to urge the passage of the Kahn bill, which requires the street railway companies to carry police and firemen free of charge, as they had done prior to the enactment of the public utilities law a little more than a year ago.

Shields, some time ago, without warning became embroiled with the chairman of the House District Committee at a hearing. Shields was knocked down and the chairman received a couple of husky punches which caused him to run for his gun.

When the committee ordered a favorable report on the Kahn bill, an amendment was tacked on prohibiting participation in its benefits any who had paid retainers for legislative work in connection with the bill.

BEER MADE AT HOME

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 11.—By a new method of concentration, a well-known brewer of this city has discovered a process whereby real beer in concentrated form can now be furnished.

Any one can now have in their own home a glass of beer whenever wanted at a cost of only a few cents a glass. It furnishes the barley, malt, hops, and other necessary ingredients of beer in the concentrated form so that simply by the addition of water and a little sugar a sparkling foaming glass of lager beer can be quickly prepared. It is said that this beer is far superior to the regular brewery beer, and as a result of this discovery thousands of people all over the country are already making their own beer at home. This new discovery will be welcomed by thousands of people living in dry territory, as on account of its concentration, it can be delivered quickly and cheaply anywhere by parcel post. No matter whether in field, factory, farm, or home, needs now to be without their daily glass of refreshing lager beer.

Mr. A. S. Shuh, of 462 Bysanmore street, Cincinnati, Ohio, has written a very interesting booklet giving the history and secrets of his process, which he is mailing with free trial offer to any one sending him their name and address.

WOULD DRAW WILSON INTO NEWMAN FIGHT

House Rule Committee to Ask that President Demand His Immediate Abdication of Office.

WANT HIS SUCCESSOR NAMED

President Wilson may be drawn directly in the "home rule" fight against Commissioner Oliver P. Newman by the plans of the "home rule" committee, headed by Fulton R. Gordon, and which plans to call on both the President and Mr. Newman early this week.

The President will be presented with a set of resolutions adopted at a "home rule" mass meeting on July 8, which demands the immediate abdication of office by the Commissioner with appeal to the Court of Appeals, and which demand that the President request Mr. Newman's resignation and appoint his successor.

The committee is composed of Fulton R. Gordon, chairman; Charles C. Lancaster, James L. Parsons, Martin Wenzel, Dr. J. K. Gleason, Arthur Cowell and Percy Metzgar. An appointment with the President, it is believed, will be arranged for either Tuesday or Wednesday.

Commissioner Newman is still Commissioner, according to an opinion given yesterday by Conrad Syme, corporation counsel. The opinion was regarded as valid by Louis Wilson, disbursing officer of the District, and Mr. Newman will receive a half month's pay next Wednesday. Mr. Wilson received a letter from the "home rule" forces on July 7, challenging his right to pay the Commissioner's salary. The disbursing officer referred the communication to the corporation counsel, who said "Pay it."

"The idea," said one distiller, "is to let the demand catch up with the production."

SEA TRAGEDY BLAMED ON COLLIER STORSTAD

Commission Holds Vessel's Charge
Responsible for Sinking of the Empress of Ireland.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Quebec, July 11.—In a finding of 11,000 words, Empress of Ireland wreck commission today held the collier Storstad to blame for the marine disaster in the Upper St. Lawrence River on May 2, when more than 1,000 passengers lost their lives.

The commission finds that the disaster was due to the change of course of the Storstad, the change being ordered, it is said, by the third officer, who was in charge of the Storstad when the collision with the Empress of Ireland occurred.

Lord Mersey drew the report of the commission, much of which is of a technical nature. The findings of the board were agreed to by the whole commission.

Much of the long report deals with the evidence regarding the collision and the loss of life. Recommendations regarding life-saving appliances to prevent future disasters of a similar nature are included in the report.

Moneaux, Pa., July 11.—Several society girls of this city had a perfectly awful time yesterday in a secluded nook near Belle Vernon, Westmoreland County. The girls were enjoying a quiet picnic when the gurgling water in a near by brook enticed them. Apparently far from the path of travelers, they decided on a dip. Lacking bathing suits, they went in as September 7 o'clock.

The water was fine until it was time to dress. Then, their settee, their horror, their lingerie and gowns had disappeared. Several rude urchins had stealthily invaded the spot and taken the clothing of the girls. For an hour the situation was exceedingly painful, and the woods were full of briar-torn nymphs fittingly hidden in search of mementos, which was later found hidden a mile from the "swimming hole."
